Land Owners On Highway DislikeZoning

Property owners along the state highway at Niles do not want zoning at all if it can be avoided. But if their land must be zoned with the rest of Niles, they prefer that its use be restricted as little as possible.

These conclusions were reached at the fourth neighborhood zoning meeting Tuesday evening, called by the zoning committee of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

McDERMOTT, ENOS LEADERS

Leaders of the protest against zoning of the highway frontage property are M. A. McDermott and Postmaster Edward E. Enos. McDermott has united the property owners on the eastern section of the highway, while Enos took care of the western portion.

It had been recommended by County Planning Consultant Roland Campbell that the highway area be zoned "R-1," in a single-family classification. As his reasons, Campbell stated that business fares better in a business district, that its concentrated location is better for a community, that both the county and the state look with disfavor on roadside developments along well-traveled highways (such as exists between Hayward and San Leandro) because of the accompanying hazards to and slow-down of traffic.

Owners of the Niles highway property, however, regard their land as logical sites for business or manufacturing use.

CHANGES SUGGESTED

The business and central residential district of Niles was the subject of a sparsely attended zoning meeting Monday evening. Changing original plans so that duplex homes would be permissible as far west as School street was decided.

It was pointed out that, with large residential lots and alley entrance, closer building should be allowed than is permitted in area zoned for single-family residences.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Vernon Ellsworth and Zoning Committee Chairman L. R. Batman are making arrangements for a meeting with representatives of the County Planning Commission so that all suggestions of property owners as to zoning changes may be properly considered.

A general meeting for all property owners in the proposed zoning district will be called when a revised zoning map has been drawn.

$15,000 FIRE AT DECOTO; 2 HOMES, CONTENTS LOST

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed two homes in Decoto about noon yesterday, resulting in a total loss of approximately $15,000.

The homes were the property of R. B. Brown and were located on 13th street. The fire broke out in the three-bedroom home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Brown and spread to a two-room rental home on the same property. Both houses and all their contents were completely destroyed.

Kenneth Garcia, lieutenant in the Decoto Fire Department, directed the operation of the firefighters in the absence of Chief Roland Bendel. One fireman, Tony Costa, received a leg injury while battling the two-hour blaze.

Brown was at home at the time the blaze broke out and began immediately to remove valuables while a passerby, Mrs. Julia Mateo, dashed to a phone to call in the alarm. By the time the fire company arrived the high winds had fanned the flames until they engulfed a large portion of the home and had spread to the nearby smaller house.

Brown told Garcia that a portion of the loss was covered by insurance.

Garcia said the small house was occupied by one man but his name could not be learned at the moment.

ALL CONTROLS ON ELECTRIC POWER TO END SATURDAY

Existing controls on the use of electric power will be suspended in this area tomorrow (Saturday), it has been announced by Robert P. O'Brien, Emergency Power Director.

The suspension of controls on new business connections has received the stamp of approval of the California Public Utilities Commission and the emergency staff set up to assist O'Brien is being skeletonized with but a few emergency employees retained to assist O'Brien in watching future developments in the electric power situation.

The power director's order resulted from three factors: Improvement in electric power resources resulting from March and April storms; completion of arrangements to obtain increased deliveries of power from Southern California; and a study of the system load changes which have taken place since the suspension of April 12, which removed many curtailment regulations.

He warned, however, that many uncertainties remain because of prospective summer loads and other factors, and that these uncertainties may possibly lead to a reinstitution of the curtailment program either in whole or in part. Simultaneously he urged each individual electric consumer to save electricity and obtain from it a maximum beneficial use.

In disbanding more than 200 power conservation committees in 46 counties, which had volunteered to assist in the power saving program, O'Brien praised them for their aid. Serving on one of the committees as an agriculture representative was L. S. Williams of Irvington.

FORMER ALVARADO MAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral services for Allen Richmond, 60, a native of Alvarado, were held in San Francisco Wednesday under the direction of the Masonic Lodge.

Richmond, whose brother, Edwin, lives in Centerville, is also survived by his widow, by a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hoquin of San Francisco, and by four other brothers: William Richmond of Richmond, Harvey Richmond of Oakland, Robert Richmond of San Francisco, and Everett Richmond of Santa Maria.

The deceased, who was reared and educated in Washington Township, was a retired electrician living in Concord. He had been in poor health for several months.

ALL READY for the drivers' quiz at the Old Hearst Ranch last Sunday were Mrs. John Brahmst, Mrs. Henry Vervais and Mrs. Walter Sletten. They are being interviewed by Bill Baldwin of radio fame. Looking on are Ruby Hunter and Henry Vervais. Marie Vervais (in the center) was the lucky winner and won a handsome electric iron for her efforts. —Register Photo

MEASLE OUTBREAK HERE NOT EPIDEMIC SAYS HEALTH NURSE

"The current outbreak of measles throughout Washington Township cannot be classified as an epidemic and is believed to be over the peak and now on the decline as far as the number of cases is concerned," Mrs. Edna Ebright, public health nurse, said yesterday.

She pointed out that the outbreak had been anticipated, as this is a "measles year," adding that outbreaks of measles tend to run in cycles of about seven years. She said that the cases here were "just plain old measles" and the homes where cases occur are not quarantined. Parents of children who have contracted the illness are urged to isolate the child for a period of one week after the rash first appears.

"First symptoms are very much like a cold," Mrs. Ebright said, "with the youngster coughing and sniffling for a period ranging from four days to a week before the rash appears." She urged that mothers take the youngster to their doctor when these symptoms first appear and stressed the danger for pre-school age children, requesting mothers to be on the constant lookout for these first danger signs.

NILES C. OF C. MEN ARE SCHOOL GUESTS

As guests in an observance of Public Schools Week, the Niles Chamber of Commerce lunched at the Niles Elementary School cafeteria Tuesday on the invitation of Superintendent E. Dixon Bristow.

Following their enjoyment of a meal prepared by Mrs. Catherine Parry, who manages the cafeteria, and served by students, members heard a brief talk by Principal Bristow. He explained the changing concepts of education and the increasing public awareness of the importance of education which has followed annual observance of School Week.

He also sketched the methods of administration in the Alameda County school system.

This year, Bristow stated, the Niles school has an enrollment of 471 pupils—an increase of more than 100 over last year.

After the meeting, the Chamber members were invited to inspect three classrooms which are now being completed and were shown through several classrooms.

NEW GROUP OF HOMES

Three new homes on First street in Niles are being built to sell by D. G. Osincup of San Leandro, according to the real estate firm of Parks & DeCaen, who are listing the properties.

Financing of construction is handled by E. Russi, also of San Leandro. Additional Niles lots are being acquired for extension of building operations.

MAN INJURED IN TRACTOR FALL

A desire to have a nice garden, coupled with plenty of energy and enthusiasm to do the job, almost cost Thomas Grant of Santos Road his life.

Last Sunday morning, Grant, an employee at Pacific States Steel, went over to the Berchem slaughter yard in Newark to borrow a tractor in order to plow up the ground around his home. In loading the tractor on a truck, the tractor turned over, falling on Grant and causing him to be rushed to the San Jose Hospital, suffering from a crushed lung and other severe injuries. He is in a critical condition.

Grant and his wife and children came to the township about two years ago from Massachusetts. Mrs. Grant is a sister of Mrs. John Berchem of Niles.

RAINFALL TOTAL BOOSTED; NEARS SEASONAL AVERAGE

Total rainfall here for the current season, since July 1, 1947, is rapidly approaching the seasonal average, after getting off to a slow start, according to the records of Manuel Swartz, keeper of the rain gauge at the Southern Pacific Depot at Niles.

Swartz revealed yesterday that the rainfall thus far this season, excluding yesterday's downpour, now totals 13.63 inches, 1.18 inches over the amount recorded here during the corresponding period last year.

Local residents are still waiting impatiently for the coming of Spring, with wintry winds and rain continuing to lash the countryside.

Wednesday night the thermometer took an unprecedented dip and a blanket of snow covered the hill tops between Mission San Jose and Livermore, while the lowlands of the township were thoroughly drenched by a downpour of rain which lasted throughout the day yesterday. Forecasters have promised additional storms for today, to continue throughout most of the week-end.

The place of the presentation ceremony has not as yet been selected, but Rose said it would be a dinner meeting.

Plane Crash in Hills Near Mission San Jose Claims Lives of Four Persons

Four persons, two men and two women, perished in the crash of their light airplane in the hills between Mission San Jose and Warm Springs early Tuesday evening.

The victims have been identified as Leland W. Pritchard, 40, Ivanhoe, postmaster, and his wife Lillian; Walter Roush, 41, Visalia rancher, and his wife Frances, Ivanhoe grade school teacher.

The crash occurred about 200 feet from the crest of Monument Peak on the ranch of E. O. Wool of San Jose, and the first report of the crash was made at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by E. C. Gregg of Fresno, who landed his plane at Belmont Airport and told of seeing a smoldering wreckage in the hills. A short time later Ray Dixon, instructor at Centerville Airport, and Orville Ebright, Niles pilot, flew over the scene and likewise identified the scattered debris as a wrecked plane.

FOUND BY RANCHERS

Ebright and Dixon joined a posse of sheriff's deputies headed by Robert Moore and Henry Vervais, and spent the night searching the hills on foot, but were unable to locate the scene of the crash.

Early Wednesday morning rescue units from the Coast Guard and local ranchers joined in the search and the plane and four bodies were found about 1:30 p.m. by Manuel Coelho, Alfred and Ed Andrade, all of Warm Springs

Deputy Sheriff Lowell Creighton, who was one of the first to reach the scene, said the plane slithered along the hillside about 30 feet and completely burned, except for a tail section. The bodies of the badly mangled victims were scattered about the hillside ahead of the burned plane. All of the plane's occupants died instantly, he said.

ATTENDED FLOWER SHOW

Deputy County Coroners Tom Berge, Irvington, and Ben Murphy, Niles, were summoned and made the trip to the wreckage from the road's end by horseback and tractor sled. The bodies were brought to the Berge Mortuary Company at Niles.

The Pritchards are survived by two daughters and the Roushs by two sons. Roush's brother, Dr. J. W. Roush, Piedmont, said the two couples had come to the bay area Monday to attend the Spring Garden Show in Oakland. They left the Oakland Airport Tuesday afternoon for the return trip home and died a matter of a few minutes later.

ARCHITECT WILL ADDRESS GROUPS

Larue Sorensen, executive assistant to the Robert Stanton architectural firm of Carmel, will address the members of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon meeting at Roethlin's Cafe Tuesday, according to Edward E. Enos, chairman of the Washington Township Hospital Committee.

Enos also said that Sorensen will speak at 1:30 p.m. at Washington Union High School before the classes of social study and social history.

He will address the members of the Washington Township Country Club at their meeting at the club house in Centerville at 3 p.m.

Sorensen, renowned as a hospital architect, will address each of the groups on the establishment of a hospital district for the township.

SHIP FIRST LETTUCE FROM THE DISTRICT

Maurice Hemphill, co-owner of the Alvarado Marketing Company, Decoto, announced yesterday that he had shipped a half carload of lettuce to Hartford, Conn., last Saturday, the first spring shipment of lettuce from this district.

A full car of the Iceberg head lettuce was shipped by the company for the same east coast city yesterday. Hemphill, who has been operating the company in Decoto since September of last year, stated that this year's crop is exceptionally good throughout this district and second to none in quality.

CROWD OF 1,500 ATTENDS SECOND ANNUAL ROUND-UP

The Second Annual Spring Round-up was staged by the Washington Chapter, Future Farmers of America, before an audience of 1,500 persons in Memorial Stadium at the high school last Saturday.

The affair, arranged and presented by the 33 local boys of the chapter and their faculty advisor, Jed Oxborrow, provided a full day of entertainment for the spectators.

TROPHIES AWARDED

The Round-up opened with the judging of poultry, dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs, sheep and horses, all entered by elementary and high school students of the township. Norman Rose of Niles was awarded the trophy donated by the Laura Loma Parlor, N.D.G.W., Niles, for his prize-winning beef entry.

The afternoon show was opened with the Grand Parade of stock, floats, mounted horsemen, and headed by the high school band. Joyce Hunsberger, a member of the senior class, was crowned Queen of the Round-up by Salvador Galvan, president of the local chapter. Queen Joyce's attendants were Lorraine Brown, Centerville, and Annie Navas, Decoto. Winner in the float contest was the entry of the senior class.

In the junior pleasure horse contest Mary Lynn Lamoreux of Niles won top honors and in the high school stock horse event Vernon DeValle and Norman Goosen ended in a tie with their mounts and were awarded trophies donated by Dallas Paul and Central Chevrolet.

In the other afternoon contests Jerry Roeding of Niles was named the best dressed rider and Jack Ferraris and George Pagan ended on the bottom of the pile clutching the greased pig.

Entertainment features included Mrs. Charlotte Anderson of Pleasanton, who presented her beautiful horse, Destiny Bay, in a fine harness demonstration.

NILES DAY AT OLD HEARST RANCH BRINGS OUT THRONGS· LOCALITES WIN PRIZES

Everybody—and everything—cooperated to make Niles Day at the Old Hearst Ranch last Sunday a memorable occasion. Even the weatherman, in a bid for popularity no doubt, took a day out of the month of June and served it in April.

The day started out with breakfast on the loggia, followed by a radio program (to be broadcast next Sunday over KSFO at 9:30 a.m.—and don't miss it) in which several Niles people performed.

Bill Baldwin, popular KSFO master of ceremonies, did a fine job of emceeing the program, with the able assistance of Ruby Hunter, glamorous blonde. She is only one of a number of young lovelies who find the Old Hearst Ranch a place to have fun. Is it any wonder then that several eligible young bachelors of Niles seemed to be having such a good time? Among these were Jerry Sletten, Vernon Ellsworth, George Bonde Jr., Lewis Havey, Johnny Amos, Fred Rebello.

Henry Vervais, Niles deputy sheriff, found himself an unwilling performer on the radio program, but was a good sport about donning a big sombrero and a kerchief and entering into the spirit of the occasion.

And did it pay off! He and his wife, Marie, received tickets to a show in the city, to be preceded by a complimentary dinner at one of San Francisco's best restaurants. Marie also won a handsome electric iron for giving the most complete answers in an auto driver's quiz. Her competitors in the quiz were Mrs. John Brahmst and Mrs. Walter Sletten, both of whom received magnificent bouquets from no less than Podesta and Baldocchi's in San Francisco.

Other localites who won prizes included Vernon Ellsworth (a radio), who gave the nearest correct answer to the question, "How many tons of water go over Niagra Falls in an hour?" Mrs. Peter Juhl, who was there with her husband and son, Ralph, was the lucky winner in a drawing and she, too, received a Podesta and Baldocchi bouquet.

Very busy with the kodaks, trying to record the eventful day on film, were John Cattaneo and Vern Batman. With the Cattaneos were his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Barrus, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Goularte, and daughter. Mr. Barrus, a United Airlines pilot, had to take off immediately following breakfast because of a scheduled flight he had to make.

Mr. and Mrs. Burlia James, who keep the juke boxes going at the Ranch, were taking it easy Sunday, and made it a pleasure rather than a business trip.

Taking in all the activities of the Ranch, including the swimming and horse-back riding was Suzanne Gorman, who was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gorman, who came up for breakfast and stayed on through dinner. Suzanne and her mother were adding to their tan, in anticipation of a trip to Honolulu this summer where tans are a "must."

Another enthusiastic golfer was Mr. C. Maggiora of Niles.

Arriving too late for the breakfast and broadcast, but enjoying the afternoon and staying on for dinner were Peggy and "Peach" Cozzi.

Hosting a party of about six or eight—all strangers to us—was E. C. Parks, Niles realtor.

Bruce Nichol and Jean Oliveira, of the younger set, whiled away the afternoon at the ping-pong table in the lounge.

RETURNS TO CANADA

Rev. Brother Ferdinand LeMay, who had been at the pastorate of the Dominican Convent with Reverend George Bourque, has gone back to Canada after vacationing for some time here in the U.S.A. Father Bourque, who is the Convent Father, left Monday for Ottawa, Canada, where he will vacation with his father and mother and other relatives. He will also see his sister, Juliette, who visited him last year at the Convent.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY

A guardian angel was surely riding the bumper of LeRoy Costa's coupe the other night and saved him from a near scrape with death. LeRoy, who has been used to driving a large Buick sedan, lost control of the light Plymouth coupe which he now drives, just off the Sunol bridge coming to the Mission. The car rolled over, taking off a fender, crushed the top and and other damage. Passing motorists extricated LeRoy, who was unhurt except for a shaking up and a few minor bruises.

RETURNS HERE

Death Valley this time of year is very beautiful and it was with regret that John Silva of the Mission returned to his home here after spending the winter months there in the valley. He has done this for many years and always looks forward to another year near Scottie's Castle.

ON VACATION

Mrs. Larry Thompson and son of the Mission Hereford Ranch are spending a few weeks vacation in Los Angeles visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Thompson informs us that Bobby took down with the measles two days after they arrived so the vacation is not going so good.

NEW RESIDENT

Little Jean Alice Habluetzel has put in an appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Habluetzel of the Weibel Champagne Vineyards near Warm Springs. The tiny one weighed 7 pounds 5 ounces and made her debut on April 22. Mrs. Habluetzel is the former Miss Weibel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Weibel, owners of the winery.

BROTHER KILLED

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jibson of Niles, former Mission residents, will be sorry to hear that they were called to Declo, Nevada, late Monday night following a phone call from her mother, that her youngest brother, Elliott, had been killed in a plane crash. They went by car and because of Mrs. Jibson's teaching position at Newark, they will probably return this week-end.

VISIT ENROUTE

Miss Marjorie Caldwell, a former Mission girl and daughter of Mrs. Odessa DeMotte, now of Centerville, passed through the Mission one day last week with her brother, Dale, on their way to Tuscon, Arizona, where they will spend a vacation with their grandmother. In L. A., they will stop over to visit their dad, who is a member of the L. A. police force. Dale is a recent dischargee from the U. S. Army, having served in Austria for a year.

WINS AT ROUND-UP

Again the Mission carries off top honors, at least one of our fourth grade grammar school boys did, and I'm sure we are all proud of the young man. He is Bob Barbee and at the Spring Round-up at Washington Union High School on Saturday, he received two first prize blue ribbons for the best doe and buck White New Zealand rabbits and second prize for a litter of six babies. The Barbees are comparatively new residents of the Mission, having purchased land above the St. Joseph Cemetery near Dublin Road where they have begun the business of raising rabbits. They have named their place the ZNB Rabbitry and raise only pedigreed stock and when they really get under way they will have hutches for 3000 animals for fryers and also keep breeding stock for sale. The owners of the Rabbitry are Mr. and Mrs. George Barbee.

OOPS, SORRY

An apology on one of my last week's articles. Being I have never been to college and do not pretend to know all the answers. I was informed by a good friend of mine and also a newspaper writer of no mean ability, that Phi Beta Kappa is an honor society and not a sorority. Correction well taken and next time I will know.

BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED

Mother Josephine Fernandez (Life begins at forty) and daughter, Geraldine (Jerry), age 19, celebrated a double birthday on Sunday with a lovely dinner at the International Kitchen with Jerry's twin brothers, Clarence (Nonie) and Lawrence (Weezer), her friend Richard Brunelli and their mutual friend Dick Venturin of San Pedro, now in college in Berkeley, present to wish them well. Jerry is going the San Jose State studying for a nursing career. A tiny birthday cake with one candle and gardenias were presented by the Kitchen as compliments on a double birthday.

IN HOSPITAL

E. B. Hodges, principal of the Mission Grammar School, is confined in the hospital where he underwent surgery one day this week. Mrs. LaVerne Dickerson is substituting in his place. A quick recovery, please.

FASHION SHOW-CARD PARTY

St. Jude's Institute, Y.L.I., is sponsoring a benefit fashion show and dessert card party to be held at the Irvington School on May 14 at 8 p.m.

The fashion show will feature clothes from "Mildred's" in Centerville.

"LEAVE THE GATE OPEN, WE'RE ONLY VISITING" . . . Fifty-two Washington Union High School boys, accompanied by Coach Irving Hird and Sergt. William Cote, local Army recruiter, spent a day recently at Ford Ord as guests of the Army. The group of student enjoyed the trip through the Army base and the demonstrations put on by the various units, but from the above picture it appears they were most impressed by the Army "chow" served them at the noon hour. Pictured at the table in the foreground are Joe Salvador, Joseph Lewis, Kenneth Furtado, Bob Silveira, and James Duarte. Facing the camera at the table in the background are Alvin Silva, Irv Alameda and David Leask. Also seated at the table but more interested in food than photographers are, Jerry Morley, Don Andrade, Phil Enciso and Ralph Villescaz. —U. S. Army Signal Corps Photo

SHERIFF GLEASON TO ADDRESS C. OF C.

Kenneth Garcia, president of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that Alameda County Sheriff Jack Gleason will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening at the Fire Hall.

Garcia said that he was not certain of what Sheriff Gleason would choose as his topic but expressed belief that he would devote a portion of his talk to replying to the recent Chamber request that additional deputies be assigned to duty in this area.

The meeting, called for 8 p.m., will be closed with the serving of refreshments.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL COURSE UNDER STUDY

Parents of Sunday School children of the Irvington and Centerville Presbyterian Churches have been urged to attend a meeting tonight at the Irvington Church, at which time a new curriculum for the year will be suggested for approval.

J. Peter Bercovitz, student pastor of the Irvington Church, reported this week that the new course of study has been prepared by the Presbyterian Church and is being offered in the various churches for approval. The meeting will feature a sound movie exhibiting the attractive new materials used in teaching Sunday School classes of youngsters. He added that the success of the course depends on the cooperation of the home and the church and urged the parents to attend. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

NILES BUSINESS IS NOW FIVE YEARS OLD

* * * * * * * * *

TOYON 'STOCKHOLDERS' ASSURE SUCCESS

One of the most thriving, and one of the most rewarding businesses in Niles, is celebrating its fifth anniversary this month.

Five years ago members of that worthy organization, the Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital, decided they needed a steady source of income to assist other branches in defraying the costs of the hospital.

So a salvage shop was conceived and born, with the usual birth pangs attendant upon such ventures. The members, under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Whipple of Niles, met with numerous obstacles that served only, however, to sharpen their determination to carry out the project. The first few years of bringing up their "baby" to maturity also proved hazardous. There was the matter of locations, for example. Five times have they found it necessary to move. Each time there were dark moments when it looked as if absolutely no location could be found. Each time, however, by dint of dogged determination, a location has been found. At the present time the business is situated next to the Ragged Robin Cafe.

Perhaps you have been unaware of it as you have passed. It is an inobscure little business. No flashy neon signs, nor modernistic designs grace its windows. But to many, many people in the township it is a port in a storm—a storm of financial stress in times of high prices.

Here, in the little rummage shop, can be bought children's shoes, clothes, men's and women's suits, and warm coats. The garments may not be in style; they may not have the "new look," but they are warm and they are clean and they still have many months of wearability left in them. And the price? Well—the prices may seem ridiculously low to you. But, remember, many who buy the clothes would have no clothes at all, were the prices any higher.

The Toyon Branch is entirely dependent upon the generosity of the townspeople in keeping their little shop well-stocked. They are always in need of children's shoes, and clothes of any kind, in addition to such household items as dishes and kitchen utensils. But—no rags! And no newspapers or magazines. The shop is not large enough to stock such incidentals.

Those who contribute clothing to the shop are meeting a two-fold need. First, they make it possible for many to replenish their wardrobes in a painlessly inexpensive way, and second, the proceeds from the sale of the clothing make it possible for many boys and girls to have expert medical care at Children's Hospital.

All in all, the Toyon Branch Rummage Shop has just cause to be proud of the fact that it is celebrating its fifth anniversary, for it has brought five years of brightness and cheer to a host of grateful well-wishers.

VAL LOTTI SUBJECT OF FEATURE STORY

Val Lotti, Newark, night foreman of the composing room of the San Jose Mercury-Herald, was the subject of a feature write-up in that paper's Sunday edition.

The story relates that the death of a United States president caused Lotti to get into the newspaper business. It was in 1919, the day President Teddy Roosevelt died, that Lotti, a high school student at Santa Maria, was one of several students recruited to sell extras of the Santa Maria Daily Times. From that experience he took on a regular paper route and later took a job in the plant and has been in the field since that time.

He and his wife, the former Mary Duarte, reside in Newark, where she is assistant postmaster and civil service examiner.

BENEFIT CARNIVAL FOR NEWARK YOUTH

Newark's Carnival Bazaar, a benefit for the youth of the community, will be presented at the elementary school Saturday beginning at 7 p.m. under the auspices of the Youth Center Committee.

The entire show will be presented in the school building, thus assuring spectators that the show will go on, rain or shine.

All civic organizations and merchants of the community are cooperating in presenting the show and the carnival will have all the usual side-shows, booths and contests found on any midway.

At 8:30 p.m. a variety show will be staged in the school auditorium under the direction of Harry Houston. The home-talent production will feature a "beauty" contest, with eight of the community's leading males, adorned in feminine costumes, competing for the prize. Participants who will parade for the judges in the hopes of being declared the most comely will be Sam Scott, Wes Sears, Chester Gunn, Kenneth Berg, Kenneth Foster, James Collins, R. A. Jolly, and Harry Houston. Clyde Hewitt will be master of ceremonies.

Tickets to the variety show are now on sale and may be purchased from the Boy Scouts, Girls Scouts, or Cub Scouts.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK ENDS TODAY

The 29th Annual observance of California Public Schools Week will close here today (Friday) with special programs at most of the elementary schools of the township. All of the schools have held Open House here during the week with parents and friends invited to visit the schools and view the many interesting and artistic exhibits on display.

An all-student program will be presented today by the pupils of the Alvarado Elementary School. At Centerville a girls' play day, featuring folk dancing, was held yesterday. A tea was served and a program presented yesterday at the Niles school. All parents who have not had an opportunity to visit the schools yet this week are urged to do so today.

ON MASONIC COMMITTEE

William Beck, master of Alameda Masonic Lodge, Centerville, has been named to the general committee to arrange for the 11th Annual Masonic Spring Breakfast to be held at the Claremont Hotel, Sunday, May 23. The breakfast is expected to draw more than 1,500 Masons from the 54 lodges in Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

COUNTY MAY GET FEDERAL TAX AID

Reimbursement of more than $2,000,000 in taxes to Alameda county from land owned by the Federal government and for which no taxes are paid is sought in a bill now before Congress for consideration.

Harry Bartell, chairman of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, left last week for Washington to attend a meeting of the Senate and House committees where the bill will be discussed. A special meeting of the public lands committee of the Senate was called by Senator William F. Knowland of California, and Bartell was asked to present the views of the California counties.

Alameda county's share would be $2,402,216 estimated tax loss on 435 acres of Federally owned property having an assessed valuation of $60,280,457.

Here's why we say WOMEN CAN GO PLACES IN THIS BUSINESS

1. This is a story of a typical Pacific Telephone "career girl." She started as an operator back in the thirties...a good job then, even better now. Today most new operators just out of high school average better than $35 a week when they start handling calls and many experienced operators earn $50 a week.

2. She was promoted to supervisor after a few years. Training new girls was an important part of the job...for Pacific Telephone was growing. She enjoyed vacations every year . . . with pay, of course. And she joined in many local telephone activities. Found telephone people friendly and sociable ...on or off the job.

3. She's a chief operator now supervising 70 women...her responsibilities and experience help determine her salary of $4,500 a year. Many "chiefs" earn more. Two-thirds of our people are women—hundreds have management jobs — five are assistant vice-presidents. Yes, women can go places in this business.

4. Telephone jobs must be good jobs to attract the capable people needed to furnish service. Good pay, steady work and an employee benefit plan give a strong sense of security. Comfortable surroundings, vacations and friendly fellow workers help make work pleasant.

Engineer Argues Reber Plan Is Sound

By B. L. NISHKIAN
Consulting Engineer

This article is written in reply to one prepared by Leonard Doten. Doten declares the Reber Plan to be " . . . a product of fantastic imagination, but wholly lacking in true creative imagination, the factor which is so essential in conceiving and producing great public works."

He then enumerates 11 reasons why he feels that the Reber Plan is an impossibility. This article's only purpose is to present the facts to the public with regard to value and feasibility of the plan.

NEEDS ANALYSIS

Doten states, "It is only by the process of analysis that confusion and misdirected effort can be allayed." Granting that this statement is true, each of Doten's statements will be taken and logically analyzed to prove their invalidity.

1. Doten states, "The demand for construction materials such as rock and sand would be very great. Not sufficient quantities are available within economic hauling distances of the causeways and areas to be reclaimed."

The first sentence of this statement is true; there would be a very great demand for these materials. However, approximately 80 per cent of the total fill is sand, which would be dredged from the Bay floor in exactly the manner in which the fill was made for Treasure Island.

With regard to the rock fill, there are many sources of rock immediately surrounding the bay. The only thing which decides whether a material is within economic hauling distance is the value received from the final placement of the material.

In a statement as brief as this there is no room for enumerating the tremendous values which will be created by this fill, but they are sufficient easily to justify the length of haul required by this project.

It should be called to attention at this point that during the war no thought was given the question of economic haul when filling at the Richmond shipyards with material taken from the borrow pits in the vicinity of the Berkeley entrance to the Boardway Low Level Tunnel.

2. Doten states, "About one-quarter of the highly developed San Francisco water front would be destroyed."

This statement is absolutely false. First, the San Francisco waterfront is approximately three miles long, and taking Doten's own figure of 2,500 feet as the amount which would be destroyed, less than one-sixth is affected.

NEW WATERFRONT AREA

Second, no consideration is given the approximately 20 miles of new waterfront which are created, the net result being to increase the total San Francisco Bay waterfront six to eight fold. The fresh water lakes also make possible the development of minor ports to serve the small communities surrounding the bay.

3. Doten states, "The two navy yards, Hunter's Point and Mare Island, would be bottled up except for small craft. The canal would not be navigable for larger vessels."

Another ridiculous statement; it is the intention to dredge the new channel to a depth of 50 feet. If it is decided that this is not deep enough, then make it 60 feet.

It is also intended to make the channel 2,500 feet wide for the most part, which is ample for any shipping traffic on the bay. Here again, this is not a fixed figure; if it is decided that more width is needed, make it 3,500 feet wide. This certainly does not present insurmountable problems.

The fill which parallels the East Bay shore provides approximately six miles of new salt water pier space, and seven miles of fresh water pier space. In addition to this, it does not interfere with the Port of Embarkation of the Oakland Estuary; this is obvious from one quick glance at the map of the Reber Plan.

5. Doten states, "The proposed canal would pass through the railroad yard and shops located in Richmond."

To borrow a slang expression, "So what?" In the first place, everyone knows that some properties will have to be destroyed; that goes hand in hand with progress. Secondly, hundreds of acres of land for industrial purposes are being created in that area, of which the necessary amount can be used for new railroads. Thirdly, there will be space for many miles of marshaling yards on the southern mole, which is a more central location than Richmond.

6. Doten states, "The tidelands along the waterfront of Emeryville, Berkeley, Albany, and Richmond have great potential value and should be reclaimed and developed."

This objection leads one to wonder if Mr. Doten really understands just what the Reber Plan is all about. What other cheap way is there to reclaim tidal waste lands but to fill? In Mr. Doten's prefacing remarks to his objection he states, "There are incidental features in addition, such as the reclamation of certain tideland areas . . . " This is directly contradictory to his objection number six.

7. Doten states, "San Francisco Bay, south of the main causeway, could be used only to a very limited extent for shipping, owing to the narrow waterway leading to it. Incidentally, all shipping to Mare Island, Hunter's point, and adjacent areas, would be eliminate for many months during the process of construction."

For the first portion of this objection refer to the discussion of number three in which it is stated that if more width is needed than is shown on the present plan, make it wider. The remainder of this objection can only be classified as childish.

SHIPPING NOT BLOCKED

There is not space here to outline the method of construction of the project, elementary as it is, but suffice it to say that the proposed methods of construction will not prevent shipping to the points mentioned above at any time during the construction.

8. Doten states, "The water along the greater portion of the main causeway could not be used for piers, as proposed, on account of excessive depths—50 to 70 feet."

Mr. Doten seems to be confused. Water cannot be used for piers when it is too shallow; not when it is too deep. As a matter of fact, it is not advisable to dock a ship with less than five feet of water below its bottom, which brings the minimum depth for the larger ships, which draw 40 to 42 feet, to approximately 50 feet.

It is also hard to understand why Doten is concerned here with too great a depth of channel when in objection number three he implied that the channel was too shallow to allow any but small craft to navigate it.

9. Doten states, "The construction of the northern causeway would cost far in excess of warranted expenditure of funds for the amount of traffic that would develop at that crossing."

It is again apparent that Doten does not grasp the purpose of the plan. The use of the northern causeway for traffic is strictly secondary. The primary purpose of this causeway is to provide the northern arm of the salt water barrier, which is necessary to keep the salt water out and to maintain a constant water level in the created fresh water lakes.

10. Doten states, "The cutting of a waterway across the easterly approach of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge would be an insurmountable task, an absurdity."

It should be obvious to even the most uninformed layman that the traffic tubes from the bridge, which would go under the created ship cannel, would be built "in the dry" and placed into operation before the channel would be dredged across the bridge approach. Possibly Mr. Doten doesn't realize that the channel crosses the bridge approach east of the toll plaza, where all traffic is on the surface.

11. Doten states, "The southern or main causeway would be the most difficult work to carry out of the entire project. Unprecedented conditions on a very large scale would be encountered; great depths of water over a distance of nearly four miles, and tidal currents resulting from a tidal range of approximately six feet. As the height of structure neared the water surface, the swift currents would make the work of placing rock not only difficult and extremely expensive, but hazardous"

Mr. Doten probably declared such projects as the Bay Bridge, the Golden Gate Bridge, Boulder Dam, Shasta Dam, and many other projects, impossible of construction. Nevertheless, they are realities today.

MUCH MORE DIFFICULT

The aforementioned engineering feats presented many more difficult problems than are presented by the Reber Plan. The maximum fill for the southern mole would be in the neighborhood of 70 feet high, and the average fill would be approximately 45 feet; certainly not to be classified as unprecedented depths to fill.

Apparently Doten's knowledge of tidal actions is limited or he would realize that his statement concerning the swift currents is erroneous. In any event, it is certain that the problems involved would be no greater than the sinking of the south tower caission for the Golden Gate Bridge.

The rest of Doten's statement is even harder to follow than the portions which have already been discussed. However, one thought which does seem to be stated is the impossibility of making the south bay portion of fresh water.

There are several ways in which this could be done, but the one which is easiest to understand is pumping. There will be many dredges in the area which will have been used for placing the hydraulic fill for the reclaimed lands. Simply use these same dredges to pump the salt water from the fresh side of the southern mole to the salt water side.

A large amount of pumping ,to be sure, but not too costly when compared to the overall cost of the total project and the tremendous benefits derived from the project.

LOCAL BOARD STATES ITS POSITION ON REBER PLAN; COMMENTS ON ARGUMENT

(Editor's Note: The engineering controversy concerning the proposed Reber Plan this week drew the following comment from the board of directors of the Alameda County Water District.)

Let us have constructive criticism of the Reber Plan, and let it be severe if based on sincere study and good will. The Alameda County Water District is interested solely in solving this great public problem in the interest of the overwhelming majority.

We do not question the right of private interests to state their cases as emphatically as is necessary, provided they speak to the point. We believe they should be compensated for such injury as may be suffered as a result of any such project from which the public benefits.

The backers of the Reber Plan are not asking for the unconsidered building of this project. They are calling for a complete and unprejudiced engineering investigation of its merits... Is it impractical or too costly? If so, let us meet the issue squarely, without evasion, point by point, —and find out.

Let us not start spending two or three hundred million dollars building bridges and causeways with all their admitted weaknesses if, for the same amount of money, the Reber Plan can equal all their advantages. For, in addition, it solves the water problems of all the eleven counties around San Francisco Bay, including the Delta region.

What is the use of transportation if this area is to be poisoned and withered with salt water? Water comes first, transportation second.

Such unfounded "arguments" as Major Doten's merely confuse the issue and waste our time.

There are a few sound points against the Plan—though the Major doesn't seem to have discovered them—and they should be thoroughly threshed out by competent engineers before a disinterested board. Then, and only then, will we advocate the actual building of the project.

We are an elective body charged with the duty of protecting and conserving the water resources of this area. If this or any other plan is shown to be impractical, we will oppose it; but we have as yet heard nothing that seems to be a valid and unanswerable argument. Until we do, we endorse and will fight for the Reber Plan.

It Takes Mills to Make the Steel You Use

and PROFITS to keep mills going

It takes "real profits" to keep an industry alive. It is the purchasing power of the profit dollar that sets today's pace for progress.

The high costs of improvements and expansion in steel can today be met only with profit dollars. For the money that the industry has been allowed to set aside for replacement and improvement is not enough to meet today's requirements.

Steel's 1948 profit dollar buys only 50 cents worth of rolling mill, however, compared with 1938. It takes two of today's dollars to buy as much mill as one dollar bought ten years ago.

Steel profits averaged 6.3 cents on the sales dollar last year. In the same period, the profit per dollar of investment in the steel industry was 9.4 cents.

Steel profits are low when measured against today's high cost of maintaining efficient plants. The steel industry is meeting those costs because an efficient industry best serves the public interest.

'ICE FOLLIES' TO OPEN JUNE 9

The spectacular Shipstads and Johnson "Ice Follies of 1948" will open its annual summer engagement at San Francisco on June 9, it was announced this week by George Campbell, general manager of Winterland, Bay Area "home" of the nationally-famed ice-extravaganza.

At the same time, Campbell announced that, in order to give out-of-town patrons an opportunity to select seat locations and performances of their own choosing, only mail orders will be accepted prior to the opening of the regular box-office sale in San Francisco on May 10.

Out-of-town mail order reservations will be accepted immediately.

The 12th Annual Edition of The Follies, now completing another record-smashing tour of the nation's largest cities, has been acclaimed by critics as "the greatest ever."

Because critics have been using this same phrase ever since the Second Edition back in 1936, they explain this year's enthusiasm is created by the spectacular effects gained through the use of post-war plastics and other costuming and production facilities now available.

In addition to startling settings and costumes, numerous new stars have been added to the roster of such favorites as Roy Shipstad, Evelyn Chandler, Mae Ross, Frick and Frack, Phyllis and Harris Legg and Betty Schalow. Newcomers include a double set of twins—17-year-old Joyce and Joanne Scotvold and the brothers Roy and Ray Schramm.

One of the 10 production numbers is entitled "Old San Francisco," starring Evelyn Chandler and the comics, Frick and Frack. "Props" include a replica of a San Francisco cable car and a setting at Fisherman's Wharf.

MOSQUITO CONTROL POSTER CONTEST

The California Mosquito Control Association this week announced a mosquito control insignia contest, open to all high school students.

The contest is being sponsored locally by the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District with prizes of $15, $10, and $5 being offered. Local winner will have his or her entry in the state contest for the opportunity to win a grand prize of $75.

Entries shall be pen and ink drawings on white paper, placed on a sheet measuring approximately 10 inches by 12 inches. Drawings are to be simple as possible with no lettering desired, unless required to convey the significance of the insignia. Drawings should illustrate some form of anti-mosquito action.

OPEN MISSION AT ST. ANNE'S SUNDAY

A week-long Mission will open at St. Anne's Church, Alvarado, Sunday with sermons to be delivered in Portguese by Father Oliveira, renowned orator from Fatima, Portugal.

Father Oliveira, who recently arrived in this country, will conduct all the Mission exercises and will preach in Portuguese at the 8:30 mass Sunday.

Known as the foremost pulpit orator of Portugal, Father Oliveira is also an accomplished linguist. Besides his native tongue, he speaks and preaches in Spanish, French, German, and English. The Mission will be concluded with the 8 a.m. mass on Saturday, May 8.

LINDSAY HOMES GAIN PROMINENCE

The Claude T. Lindsay Company's Decoto plant gained additional prominence last week when one of the company's homes, precut at Decoto, was assembled at the National Home Show in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco and was put up in 48 hours.

The company, which is well known locally for both the Decoto plant and the Lindsay Garden Tract in Newark, in some three years of pre-cutting, has already supplied the makings of more than 3,000 homes in Northern California. And, eight or nine houses are now being turned out each day at the Decoto plant.

A READY-MIX

The homes could be likened to a ready-mixed pie dough, with the ingredients prepared and assembled, but the construction left up to the contractor.

The house is delivered to the building site with the walls built, doors and windows cut and fitted, flooring cut, and hardware fitted, leaving the contractor only the task of assemblying the pieces.

There are five basic Lindsay designs and homes come in two and three-bedroom sizes, "The Rancher," "The Californian," "The Wakefield," "The Stratford," and "The Suburban." Both the interior and exterior details of the homes can be changed, according to the company, so that one house does not have to be exactly like the other.

LARGE TRACT

With Clyde Lindsay serving as tract superintendent, the company has now completed some 80 homes in the Lindsay Garden Tract, Newark, and plans call for the construction of enough additional homes to bring the total to 125.

REVEALS CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE TAXES

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, speaking before the members of the Alameda County Postmasters' Association last week at Hayward, outlined practical steps toward the reduction of taxes on real property.

Stanley told the gathering the fight to reduce property taxes is proceeding along three separate lines. With farm and agricultural unemployment reaching unexpected proportions because of the drouth, supervisors are asking Governor Warren to activate an emergency law which would permit the state to carry a portion of the cost of indigent relief.

Another battle is being fought in Washington, he said, to get Congress to authorize Federal reimbursement to counties for taxes lost because of Federal ownership of land.

The third step will be decided by the people at the November election when they vote on the proposal for State reimbursement to counties for taxes lost because of exemptions granted to veterans, churches and charitable organizations.

Postmasters from all sections of the county attended the meeting. Mary Janeiro, Decoto postmaster, was chairman of the program committee.

FARM NEWS
AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

FARMER'S SUPPLY

What are the prospects for some of the farmers' major cost items?

Farm Advisor Lee Benson says the principle items of the farmers' costs are farm labor, farm machinery, feed, fertilizer, farm building materials.

Farm labor shows improvement in supply over last year. Wage rates probably will continue near last year's level.

Farm machinery output will probably exceed last year's record. New plants are coming into production and old plants are producing at record levels. Even with exports, farmers expect to get more new machinery than in 1947.

Feed is short in California because the drought and grains are still short nationally. Under present price relationships, it will pay livestock farmers to substitute high protein feeds for feed grains whenever possible. This situation is likely to continue until the new crop of feed grains is available. The supply of feed grains on hand January 1 was about 25 per cent lower than a year eirlier. Total number of livestock to be produced between now and next fall is expected to be only about ten per cent below a year ago.

Fertilizer prices are higher than a year ago, and expected to remain higher than in 1947, when they averaged about 12 per cent above 1946.

Farm building materials are generally easier to get than in 1947. Stocks of lumber are low compared with pre-war. Dealers are reluctant to build up inventories at current high prices.

Supplies of insecticides and fungicides are large enough to meet supplies demand. Prices are expected to be lower.

Farm land values are nearly at 1920 peak. Land rentals are more than three times the prewar level, and higher than for any previous year.

FREEZING STORAGE OF ASPARAGUS

Asparagus is coming on the market now, and if you are planning to put some away for future enjoyment, it is recommended that you make ready for canning or freezing equipment now, says Dorothy E. Duncan, Home Demonstration Agent at Large.

One of the best methods of preserving vegetables is by freezing. Very few special pieces of equipment are necessary, so if you have a home freezer or have access to a locker, it is suggested that you use the following method for preserving asparagus.

First select young barely mature asparagus. Make certain that it is fresh. Wash in cold water, cut and sort. Blanch the vegetable in boiling water. That is, place the vegetable in a wire basket and emerse it in briskly boiling water. Blanching time is 2 minutes. The asparagus should then be quickly emersed in ice water so that no, color, flavor, or food value is lost. As soon as the vegetable is chilled remove from the ice water, drain, and package. Freeze and store at once.

For further information on preparing other vegetables and fruits, consult or call upon the Agricultural Extension Service, Post Office Building, Hayward. A prepared bulletin is obtainable upon request on "Freezing Storage."

TOMATO GROWERS MEETING

Adopted and promising insecticides, insect control programs, fertilization, irrigation, and other cultural practices will be discussed by Phil Minges, truck crops specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, on Wednesday, May 5. This meeting, open to all growers, will be held at the City Hall Auditorium, Hayward, starting at 8:00 p.m., says Vernon Miller, Itinerant Assistant Farm Advisor, in charge of the program.

Other discussions will include the results of field trials conducted by the University of California, particularly emphasizing DDD as a new tomato pest insecticide.

California wheat production for 1948 is forecast at 9,526,000 bushels, based upon the April 1 condition of the crop and the acreage planted. This is 21 per cent less than the 12,028,000 bushels produced last year.

Indicated 1948 production of California barley on April 1 is 32,385,000 bushels, 25 per cent below last year's crop of 43,260,000 bushels.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Sometimes governments, like men, lose sight of the plain meaning of words and when they do more often than not they invite trouble, since what they say is belied by what they do.

Webster gives as one meaning to the noun "reciprocity" the following definition:

"That relation or policy as to trade or other interests between countries under which special advantages are granted by one side in consideration of special advantages by the other."

In international trade, this quid pro quo takes the form of tariff concessions granted by the United States on imports from foreign lands, under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, in exchange for favorable tariffs on goods exported by American manufacturers.

This form of civilized intercourse between nations cannot be challenged in principle, but when it becomes a one-way street open to goods bound for American shores and closed to products shipped abroad from this country, then it time to call a halt.

That is exactly what has happened in the operation of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which is now before Congress for renewal.

As a matter of cold fact, the term "reciprocal" has lost its meaning in the exchange of goods between America and certain foreign countries—so much so that there is no reciprocity whatsoever.

Instead, certain nations get all the concessions, while American producers find themselves confronting tariff barriers that make it impossible to carry on trade on a reciprocal basis.

For California, of course, the situation is a serious one, since the agricultural products of this state must find foreign outlets if our producers are to keep their heads above water.

On the plain record, the American State Department, which administers the Act, must take the blame for nullifying the intent of Congress, as expressed in legislation authorizing reciprocal trade pacts, to provide a flexible means of balancing imports with exports through mutually agreed tariff rates.

The State Department, by its very nature, is more interested in keeping peace abroad and promoting happy relationships with foreign countries than in maintaining a sound and prosperous economy at home.

American producers certainly have no quarrel with the prime objective of the State Department's foreign policy, but the Department's practice of using the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for bargaining purposes has turned the Act into a meaningless instrument in so far as protection for American commerce is concerned.

The Act in the hands of the State Department gives protection to foreign traders while denying protection on a reciprocal basis to American traders. As an example of the autocratic manner in which the State Department now administers the Act, the Department for years has surrounded its dealings with such secrecy that American producers, in many instanees, are not informed of any determinations until they are confronted by them as confirmed realities.

Another serious disability of the present Act is that it does not provide for review and analysis of all sides of a particular tariff issue by a body independent of the State Department. Nor does it eliminate the "most favored nation" clause which grants reciprocal favors to nations that are unwilling to grant similar concessions to this country.

Furthermore, Congress itself has no opportunity to modify or approve the findings of the State Department under the Act, a circumstance which, in effect, grants legislative power to servants of government who should not be permitted to exercise such power.

The State Department is now planning to renew an agreement with Mexico under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. The negotiations provide an excellent example of the injustices flowing from the administration of the Act.

HUSKIES RETAIN LEAD IN LEAGUE

The Washington Huskies continued their Santa Clara Valley Athletic League pennant march last Thursday with a 4 to 3 victory over Fremont High at Sunnyvale.

Coach Hird's club and Santa Clara, co-holders of last year's pennant, are again deadlocked in the top position with three wins each against no losses.

Irv Alameda, credited with all the league wins for the Huskies, pitched a four-hitter last week against the Indians.

A squeeze play in the second inning gave the Huskies their first run and in the third, Right Fielder Andrade smashed out a two-run triple and scored on a long fly.

The Huskies were hosts to Mt. View yesterday in a league game on the home field, but results were not available as we went to press.

SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

The Mission Firemen, 1947 champs of the Washington Township Softball League, will don their uniforms for the first time this year on Friday evening for a practice game against the Mel and Rudy Sporting Goods team in Hayward.

The game, to be played on the Hayward diamond under the lights, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Manager Frank Mayer reported yesterday that his line-up would be on the most part the same as the combination that won the title here last season.

NILES MERCHANTS BOW TO ALAMEDA BALL CLUB 9-10

Niles baseball team, playing a practice game last Sunday against the Freddy Beauty Salon team from Alameda on the Lockwood School diamond in Alameda, lost a heart-breaker by the score of 10 to 9.

The Niles lads went into the seventh inning leading 6 to 1 with Joe Tarim, on the mound for the locals, holding the opposition to a scattered three hits and one run while his teammates were hammering out 13 hits.

Manager Tom Pugmire shifted his line-up in the seventh to allow all of his club to gain some experience and Junior Holderfield, who took over the hurling duties, ran into difficulty holding down the onslaught of the Alameda club. A ninth inning rally by the Niles club netted them three runs but fell one run short of tying the game. "It was a tough one to lose," Pugmire said, "but the object of these practice games is to find out how much and what material we have in preparation for league play."

The club here will see action again this Sunday in a game at Field No. 1, Raimondi Park, Oakland. Pugmire said yesterday that he is not sure of what team they will meet but have been promised a Class A team for opposition.

DELEGATE SELECTED

IRVINGTON BALL CLUB OPENS PLAY

The Irvington Merchants baseball team opened its summer play last Sunday in an exhibition game played for the benefit of the patients at Yountville Veterans Hospital, meeting the powerful Yountville Merchants.

The Irvington lads suffered a 12-0 shutout for, as Manager Frank Mayer puts it, "We were up against a bunch of pro's." Mayer said that the hurler for the home team was Kenneth Shehan, former San Francisco Seal pitching ace, and went on to name former West Coast League players who were on the roster of the Yountville line-up.

Two bands and a large crowd were on hand for the game, the opening of the season on the home field.

"Hank" Dutra, Irvington hurler, turned in a fine performance for the first six innings, holding the host team to three runs, but his throwing arm weakened in the seventh.

Sunday the Irvington Club will journey to Santa Cruz for a nine-inning affair with the Merchants there in a game slated for 11:30 a.m. Wives of the team will also make the trip and enjoy a picnic lunch during the afternoon.

FIGURES RUN HIGH IN GOLF TOURNEY

Woodrow Nickol and Dr. T. C. Wilson were the victors in the golf tourney held Sunday at the Old Hearst Ranch near Pleasanton, Nickol winning on gross score and Wilson on net score.

The affair was staged by the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the annual Niles Day festivities at the dude ranch. No course records were reported shattered by the localites. However, one Niles merchant is reported to have shot a blistering 89—but quit after the fifth hole.

Other participants in the tourney were Robert Griswold, Vernon Ellsworth, George Bonde, Carl Crosswhite, C. Maggiora, Louis Havey, John Brahmst, Peter Juhl and Henry Vervais.

HEALTH CONFERENCE BEGINS ON MAY 12

Wednesday, May 12, will mark the opening of the first child health conference in Washington Township.

Sponsored by the Niles P.T.A., conferences will be held at the Veterans War Memorial Building in Niles, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on the second Wednesday of every month.

Dr. Frank Anker of the Alameda County Health Department, assisted by a county health nurse and three volunteer mothers from the Niles P.T.A., will give free consultations to mothers of any child up to six years of age. The child will be weighed and measured and will be checked for possible minor defects such as bad tonsils or poor teeth.

The service is not intended to take the place of the private physician but rather to supplement his work. The purpose of the program is to keep well children well, not to treat sickly children. If the child appears to need medical treatment, Dr. Anker will recommend a visit to his private physician.

At the conferences, mothers—who will have private consultations with the doctor—may seek advice on feeding the child, on emotional problems connected with training, and may even have her child immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, and whooping-cough if the immunizations have not already been done.

The child health program, although a project of the Niles P.T.A., does not limit its services to Niles children. Any child in the township is welcome to attend.

The child health conferences have recently been started in other communities in Alameda county and have met with marked success. In San Leandro, for example, additional conferences had to be started to take care of the demand. The program is under the direction of County Health Officer Dr. James C. Malcolm, who is hopeful that eventually, through establishing child health conferences all over the county, the health standards of the pre-school child will take a big jump.

Mothers may bring their children to the conferences every month if they wish, or may bring them once every two or three months. Anticipating a great response to the new health program, the Niles P.T.A. is advising mothers to make their appointments for the first conference as soon as possible. Appointments can be made by phoning the Centerville office, Centerville 24.

BURGLAR CASE TO SUPERIOR COURT

Two Decoto youths, Felix Mesa, 19, and Henry Rodriques, 24, appeared before Judge E. A. Quaresma in Niles Justice Court last Friday and entered pleas of guilty to a burglary charge. The case was certified to the Superior Court for sentencing.

The two men were nabbed inside the Decoto Club in the early morning hours of April 8 when Neil Neilsen, co-owner, drove past the tavern after it was closed and noticed someone inside. He summoned sheriff's deputies who made the arrests.
